

Complementary Medicine for Veterinary Technicians and Nurses

Preface.

About the Author.

Introduction.

1 What Is Holistic Medicine?

2 The Role of the Registered Veterinary Technician or Veterinary Nurse in the Holistic Practice.

3 Legal Implications.

4 Introduction to Modalities.

5 Especially for Veterinary Technicians.

6 The Touch Therapies.

7 Detoxification.

8 Holistic Diet Nutrition.

9 Nutraceuticals.

10 For Veterinarians: Treatments with a Certification Program.

11 Other Commonly Employed Modalities.

12 Other Less Commonly Used Modalities.

Appendices.

Appendix 1 Glossary.

Appendix 2 Alphabetical Listing of Modalities.

Appendix 3 Where to Go for More Help.

Appendix 4 Questions to Help Define the Scope of Your Practice.

Appendix 5 Patient History Chart.

Appendix 6 Consent Form.

Appendix 7 Vaccination Consent Form.

Appendix 8 Writing Case Reports.

Appendix 9 Special Diets for Disease Problems.

Appendix 10 Analysis of Some Homemade Diets.

Appendix 11 Doses for herbs.

Appendix 12 Dosing Schedule for Homotoxicology Formulas.

Appendix 13 Alphabetical List of Bach Flower Remedies.

Appendix 14 How to Find a Holistic Veterinarian.

Appendix 15 Inventory Management.

Appendix 16 Medicating and Grooming

Appendix 17 About the Author.

Webliography.

Index.